DETAILED ACTION

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: it is unclear as to how the channel (31) can also be a hole as the two embodiments are not the same in meaning. A channel is an elongated, extended slot whereas a hole is not elongated. Also, figure 5 shows three holes with no explanation as to what the other two holes do or if they have any function at all..

Appropriate correction is required.

2. A substitute specification in proper idiomatic English and in compliance with 37 CFR 1.52(a) and (b) is required. The substitute specification filed must be accompanied by a statement that it contains no new matter.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 1-3 are objected to because of the following informalities: the claims are also not in proper idiomatic English. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Suksi in view of Mancini.

Suksi shows the claimed invention except for the use of a channel used in some type of finishing process in the making of the wrench body. Mancini suggests that a wrench can have a "channel" in the body portion for any well known reason. It would therefore be obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Suksi by using a "channel" in the wrench body because Mancini suggests the use of such a "channel" which inherently can accomplish what applicant is apparently calling a new method of making the wrench.
